Students who have lost their eligibility for financial aid due to lack of satisfactory academic progress (SAP) may appeal for re-instatement of their eligibility if circumstances beyond their control prevented them from meeting the established standards.

Appeals will not be reviewed until steps 1-6 have been completed.

Step 1: Provide a typed explanation of reasons and circumstances that caused you to fail to meet the required standards. It is important that you demonstrate a clear and thorough understanding of why you experienced academic difficulties so that you will be able to take sufficient steps in the future to improve your academic performance and meet the prescribed standards. You will need to outline the specific steps you intend to take in the next semester. Be thorough and detailed.

Step 2: Meet with your advisor to review your degree audit. The appeal application is incomplete if your academic advisor does not sign off on the appeal application.

Step 3: Provide any necessary documentation that can help validate your appeal. Such documentation, for extreme circumstances, may include hospital records, police reports, court records, letters from your doctor(s), or any documentation that may help in identifying your particular situation.

Step 4: If necessary, fill out a Change of Major with your assigned Advisor to ensure that you are enrolled in the degree stated on this appeal form.

Step 5: Provide an unofficial copy of your CCCUA transcript and copies of transcripts from any previously attended institutions. (Transcripts may be obtained from the admissions office).

Step 6 : Provide a copy of your schedule and degree audit.
